Description of Property and Justification: (Please attach map and photo)

The Moody Store Site Shed is a large storage shed located on a tax parcel that is adjacent to the northwest corner of the intersection of Whiteford Road (MD 136) and Dublin Road (MD 440) in the rural community of Dublin in northwest Harford County. The southern portion of the parcel once contained a general store, the Moody Store (HA-512). The store was determined ineligible for the National Register of Historic Places (NRHP) on August 10, 1992 and was subsequently demolished. As the shed is not mentioned on the Determination of Eligibility form that was completed for the Moody Store, the intent of this form is to ascertain that the shed is also not eligible for the NRHP.

Located on the northern portion of the parcel, the shed most likely served as a storage area for stock for the Moody Store. The building consists of two parts; a side gable frame portion and a front-facing gable portion. Both sections set on a cement block foundation and have standing seam metal roofs. The frame walls are clad with board and batten wood siding. The front-facing gable section has a wood door and large corrugated metal sliding doors. The side gable section has a modern metal door reached by wood stairs on the east elevation and a modern metal door reached by a wood ramp on the south elevation. There are several three-pane windows on the east and south elevations.

The Moody Store Site Shed is not eligible for the NRHP. The shed does not have an association with events that have made a significant contribution to the broad patterns of our history, and is not eligible under Criterion A. The shed is not associated with the lives of persons significant in our past and is not eligible under Criterion B. Due to alterations, including the replacement of historic building materials, the building lacks historic integrity. A common architectural form found throughout the vicinity, the building lacks architectural significance. The shed is not eligible under Criterion C, as it does not embody the distinctive characteristics of a type, period, or method of construction, or represent the work of a master, or possess high artistic value. The shed was not evaluated under Criterion D.

Justification for decision: (Use continuation sheet if necessary and attach map)

The store building lacks sufficient integrity to be eligible for the National Register. It has been significantly added to and altered in recent years. These changes include nearly doubling its historic size and rearrangement of the historic storefront. Harford County still has a considerable number of country crossroads stores, many of which are more intact than Moody's Store. In addition, the community of Dublin lacks sufficient integrity to constitute a National Register eligible district.
